In obedience to a call of the Hon. The meeting called to order by Judge Rollin Hurt, and the purpose of the meeting stated, after which J. R. Garnett was elected permanent chairman of the convention and J. R. When a boy or girl goes through the common school branches once, they should not be required to do what is called tread mill school work by going over the same work again. Send them to a new school where new surroundings and associates will give them renewed interest and ambition. The Lindsey-Wilson Training School at Columbia, Ky., is a safe place for them.

The fourth quarterly meeting for Game Valley charge will be held at Milltown Sept., 17.

W. F. Hogard.

Remember the great Haag Show will exhibit here next Saturday. If you are a lover of amusement be sure to be present.

Big Opening at Graded and High Schools.

The biggest opening thus far for the Columbia Graded and High Schools was Monday morning, Aug., the 30th. Two hundred and twenty-five enrolled their names for work. About 30 parents, patrons and citizens were present.

The school met for chapel exercises in the new Gym, which has just been completed. Bro. Bush conducted the chapel exercises and made a splendid talk to the school. Excellent talks were also made by Judge Baker, Mr. Horace Jeffries, Miss Mary Grissom, Miss Sallie Ray Marcum, Mrs. Ray Montgomery, J. A. English, Judge Hancock, Harry Denver, and others including members of the Alumni of the High School.

This is the seventh year of the school. The first year of the school there were just one hundred and twenty-five enrolled the first day. This year there were exactly 105 more than that number. There is also this year the greatest number we have yet had in high school. The people of Adair county are becoming awakened to the advantages their children have and are having them enter high school. The school has as strong a faculty this year as it ever has had, if not the strongest. Prospects are bright for the best year of the school.

Base Ball.

Columbia and Greensburg crossed bats on the Lindsey-Wilson campus Saturday, with Judd, Young and Dulworth as batteries for Columbia, Vaughan, Penick and Vaughan doing the stunt for Greensburg, resulting in a victory for Columbia to the tune of six to five. The game was very spirited, and up to the sixth inning stood five to one in favor of the visitors, when the Columbia team forged ahead with a batting rally that won the game. The Greensburg team is composed of a bunch of manly boys who play the game in true sportsmanlike manner, willing to let honors go to whom honor is due, and there was a marked absence of the ugly temper and unpleasantness that sometimes is seen at such contests.

Alder-I-ka never gripes, is safe to use and the INSTANT action is surprising.

Remember Haag Shows will be here next Saturday.

Mr. Aquilla Darnell, with several other men, were working the road at Gadberry last Thursday. Mr. Darnell's little five year old son was playing near the road where they were at work trimming a tree and throwing the limbs to one side, and not seeing the child, one of the men threw a limb, striking the child on the forehead cutting a gash to the bone. Mr. Darnell brought the child to Dr. Miller, at this place, who took four stitches to close the place. It is hoped that no severe effects will result from the hurt.

On another page of this issue you will find the figures on the bond proposition. Notice carefully how both principal and interest diminish each year, and are entirely wiped out at the end of the 31st year, with a balance left in the treasury.

If you want to see one of the greatest circus shows ever exhibiting in this county come to Columbia next Saturday.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Resulting in the Death of Rev. Isaac A. Story, a Baptist Minister.

Last Sunday a very sad accident occurred near Glenville, Adair county, resulting in the death of Rev. Isaac A. Story, well known to the people of this and adjoining counties. For the past six months he had been a citizen of Columbia, and had commenced the publication of a Baptist magazine.

On Saturday he left Columbia, going to Russell county. He was driving a young horse, and on his return, and while near Glenville, the backing strap broke, scaring the animal and he kicked the dashboard from the vehicle. The old gentleman in attempting to extricate himself from the buggy was kicked twice in the head crushing his skull. He fell from the buggy, and in a short time was found in a dying condition on the road side. He was picked up and carried to a farm house where he died in a few hours.

Mr. Story was a native of Clinton county, born and reared near Albany, to which place his body was conveyed for interment. He was seventy-two years old. When the Civil war broke out he entered the Federal army and served as a valiant soldier throughout the war. When hostilities ceased he commenced to preach, and was a regular Baptist minister for many years. His untimely death brought expressions of sorrow from many who knew him well.

Dr. S. P. Miller was the attending physician.

Brown-Murray Wedding.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Standish, on Wednesday, July 29, 1915; when their niece, Miss Annie M. Brown, was united in marriage to Mr. William H. Murray, in the presence of the immediate family. The Rev. E. M. Owings, of Lincoln, officiating. The Western Wave, (Wave, Neb.)

Miss Brown is a niece of Mrs. Traub Shearer, of near Columbia.

Walter Tarter, son of Mr. A. W. Tarter, of this place, who is in the regular army, was in the recent flood in Texas City, and barely escaped with his life. There was not a tent of the company to which he belongs, saved. It was an exciting and thrilling time, and Walter considers that he was fortunate in escaping with his life.

Agitation of the bond issue has stirred up considerable excitement throughout the entire county. Many are being convinced that voting bonds is the right thing to do and the only way we can ever get out of the mud.

Why not keep abreast with our neighboring counties? Russell and Clinton have both voted bonds. Now its up to Adair as to whether or not we shall be on the 1400 mile turnpike.

Above in this issue of The News we give a table of figures showing how a levy of 30 cents tax on the hundred dollars will wipe out the $125,000 proposed bond issue in 31 years, leaving a balance of over $4,000.

This estimate is made on the present assessed value of the taxable property in the county, viz: $2,694,985.00. 30 Cents on the hundred dollars brings in, each year, $8,084.95. This calculation is made as though the bonds were all issued at one time, when, as a matter of fact, they will only be issued from time to time, when the proceeds are needed which will reduce the total to be paid in interest perhaps 20 or 30 thousand dollars. At least enough will be saved in this way to pay the cost of collecting the tax. Also in this calculation we make the county pay all the interests on the bonds while it is a fact that the State pays half the interest which makes this calculation over sixty thousand dollars too much, but we thought best to calculate safely so that if there is any change from these figures it will be in favor of the county. The present assessed value of the county is lower than it is likely to be for a long time to come as the value of property in the total is gradually growing as the population increases and under the stimulus of good roads and the enhanced values that would ensue, we might conservatively state the assessment would increase 25 per cent. which would easily enable us to wipe out this bonded debt in 25 years.

Nothing has been allowed in this calculation for the keeping in repair of the roads after they are built, but we take it for granted that none will gainsay us when we make the statement that the hands who work the roads can keep pikes in order much easier than they can dirt roads, besides we will have some 60 or 70 thousand dollars in cash derived from increased values and the State's part of interest on the bonds to help repair said roads. Then again should it become necessary to RECONSTRUCT any section of road the State will meet us half way, so we conclude that that "bugaboo" may be diminished from the minds of the people.

If we undertake this matter and vote the bonds, it will enable us to command two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the building of pikes which we are reliably informed are being built over as rough, if not rougher country than ours, at a cost of $1,250 to $1,500 per mile AVERAGE. Take the latter figures and we can build on all the main roads and have money left:

For instance, the Stanford road, 20 mile.

Casey Creek road, from Cheatham's bridge, 16 miles.

Campbellsville road, 10 miles.

Greensburg road, 8 miles.

Glasgow road, 15 miles.

Milltown road, branching off at Union Church, 4 miles.

Keltner from Gradyville, 6 miles.

Burkesville road, 15 miles.

Jamestown road, 10 miles.

Fairplay road from forks on Jamestown road, 10 miles.

Glensfork and Crocus from Holladay's, 8 miles.

Russell Springs from lower bridge, 12 miles.

Somerset road from Ozark, 10 miles.

Total estimate, 144 miles.

At $1,500 per mile makes $216,000 leaving $34,000 to apply on other roads if the Court and Commissioner of roads think proper, or to apply in reducing our bonded debt.

We have tried to give a truthful, fair statement and not exaggerate or dodge any part of the issue. What effects one of us for weal or woe effects all. This, it seems to us, is our opportunity to lift our county out of the rut, to put new life and outside capital among us, to stop the exodus of our energetic young people, to bring in a new and progressive class, to help us reclaim our old, wornout farms, to build new homes and repair old ones, to give our poor working class something to do at living wages and at the same time not hurt the tax-payers. So give this your best thought without prejudice and vote accordingly.

For Sale.

Moss, Columbia, Ky., or correspond with me direct. John M. Campbell, 610 Main St., Little Rock, Ark.

A Runaway.

Mr. Barker, agent for the Century Plant, met with a very painful accident last Thursday, near Gadberry. He was returning from a trip to the country, when his buggy ran up on a bank and upset. The horse became frightened and started to run. The buggy was completely demolished, and Mr. Barker received a sprained ankle. The horse was caught about a mile from the scene of the accident by Mr. Press Miller.

Walker Bryant sold a half interest in the planing mill he is building at this place to Mr. E. M. Burton and they are having the timber put on the ground to begin work on the building at an early date. Two of their machines have already arrived. Later they expect to add a saw rig, as they have a boundary of timber to saw.

Crop Report of Kentucky Issued August 10th 1915.

The report of crop conditions for August 1st shows a continuation of favorable weather for the development of the crops with the exception of scattered points throughout the State.

The final estimate of the wheat yield in the State for 1915 is 10.7 bushels per acre. This is short of last year's yield by approximately two bushels. The continued rains of the last month damaged the quality of the wheat a great deal, and the average estimated damage throughout the State is 8c. per bushel. The average price on the farm is approximately 95c. per bushel. This is about 25c per bushel higher than the farmers obtained who sold their wheat from the threshers in 1914.

The acreage of Burley tobacco is given at 78 per cent. and that of Dark tobacco at 80 per cent. Burley shows a condition of 75 per cent. and Dark tobacco a condition of 77 per cent.

The corn crop shows a condition of 84 per cent. Much of the corn got too high for cultivation before the rains ceased, and corn fields are full of crab grass and weeds. The continued seasonable weather will result in a reasonably large crop of corn, but a drouth would be serious as the weeds and grass would soon exhaust the moisture and the roan would be unable to mature properly.

The final yield of rye is estimated at 9 bushels, that of oats at 22 bushels. The condition of hemp is 97 per cent. The potato crop is unusually large and the yield and quality of the potatoes excellent; the prices are very low. Garden conditions continue good at 95 per cent. The condition of cow peas is put at 86 per cent. and soy beans at 87 per cent. All pasture grasses are in splendid condition. Blue grass stands at 90 per cent., clover 91 per cent., alfalfa 92 per cent., and orchard grass at 92 per cent.

Fruits have suffered more or less as a result of the rains, storms, &c. The condition of apples is given at 82 per cent., peaches 71 per cent and pears 80 per cent.

The condition of poultry sums up as follows: Chickens 90 per cent, turkeys 80 and ducks 87 per cent.

The condition of livestock is as follows: Horses 94, cattle 95 hogs 92 and sheep 94 per cents.

Kentucky is finally free from all quarantine regulations as far as foot and mouth disease is concerned. A few cases of hog cholera and black leg is reported.

Taken as a whole the crops during the month of July have held their own. With favorable weather, corn and tobacco, the two largest money crops of the State, will be equal to, if not above the average, for the State.

BLACK WALNUT, CHESTNUT AND RED OAK SEEDLINGS, FRANKFORT NURSERY

All these species are excellent commercial species and relatively fast growing varieties. All furnish timber which will be as valuable fifty years from now as to-day. Walnut is in especial demand at the present time for gun stocks on account of the Great European War.

WALNUT SEEDLINGS, KY. STATE FOREST NURSERY

Black Walnut is one of the most available species for general planting in Kentucky and is valuable for a large number of uses.

BLACK LOCUST SEEDLINGS, KY. STATE FOREST NURSERY

Black Locust has many advantages for planting. It grows fast, is durable in contact with the soil, and is valuable for soil regeneration and fixation.

RED OAK SEEDLINGS AT FRANKFORT NURSERY

Red Oak is the fastest growing of American Oaks. It is particularly valuable on this account as a shade tree along streets and roads or on lawns. It is also desirable on account of its brilliant coloring in autumn and the fact that it is not especially subject to insect attacks. The Red Oak also furnishes a valuable commercial timber and is especially recommended for planting in commercial plantations.

Mr. Edwards was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor in 1911, and was defeated by Mr. Edward J. McDermott, the present Lieutenant Governor, now a candidate for Governor, by a plurality of 1,562 votes in the State, though Mr. Edwards carried Jefferson County over Mr. McDermott by over 5,000.

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from ever getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of toughest nickory—the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" beds are made of poplar. It costs the makers more—but it holds paint better and gives better service.

The trip through several of the Central counties in this State, as announced in The News last week, was highly enjoyed by every one. Good roads were inspected and enjoyed as the nine autos sped along, and at every stopping place courteous attention was shown the party. Tuesday night was spent in Frankfort, seeing the capitol and acquiring information in the building of roads as given out by Mr. Terrell, our State Road Commissioner. Wednesday morning the State prison was visited, after which the homeward journey was entered via Versailles Lexington, Harrodsburg, and Lebanon. Not only were the party met by our countymen, who are officials and employers at Frankfort, but by Mr. Terrill and assistants and others who believe in the upbuilding and advancement of every part of the State. The party consisted of forty and it was out of the ordinary to see so many from any county enter Frankfort on such a mission—to see and to learn more of the capitol, of the good roads throughout that section and to investigate their building and maintenance. The only regrettable feature was that it was two days instead of three or four days, and as far as the writer has heard every member of the party appreciates the trip and parties who gave it.

The auto trip to Frankfort, last week, gave the opportunity for many to see their State capitol and conditions existing in a portion of their State they had never visited. It could not have been made on mud roads. To our mind every man in the party is bound to see and realize that roads will bring us closer together in every avenue that tends to development. They could not fail to see undisputed signs of prosperity on both sides of every road over which they journeyed. The information concerning the aid to be given by the State was received from the State Road Commissioner in a plain, positive manner and every item of cost and profit as well as pain and pleasure was developed through a series of questions and answers. It is now a matter that each one must determine for himself whether we will build our roads under the aid offered by the State or whether we keep our mud and help other counties build their roads.

From all indications, John Fox, Jr., is now having a grand opportunity for a greater story than, "On the Trail of the Lonesome Pine." And also in the same state.

High School Alumni Meeting.

The members of the Columbia High School Alumni held their first meeting Wednesday evening of August 18th. Although there was a hard rain on the evening of the meeting there were 23 present.

Splendid talks were made by Supt. Huffaker, two members of the School Board, Mr. J. D. Lowe and Mr. J. A. English, and several members of the Association. Prof. Wilson presided at the meeting. Miss Loretta Dunbar told of her school life in West Virginia. Miss Mary Williams kept things lively with her splendid music which she rendered on piano.

It was a great inspiration to see the splendid young men and women the school has turned out into life and hear them speak of their loyalty to the school from which they had once attended. It was planned to make the meeting an annual affair. Paul J. Hughes was elected President of the Association and Miss Leonora Lowe Secretary.

An Alumni banquet will be held next year.

First Car of Hogs.

Mr. L. W. Bennett has the distinction of being the first man to ship a car load of hogs from this place. The hogs were loaded on the car of The Rapid Transit Co., at the pen near the public square, last Friday, leaving Columbia at 8 o'clock, and were loaded on the train at Campbellsville at 12 o'clock the same day. This could not have been done over any other road in Adair county. Why not be for good roads?

Miss Pauline Kern, of Norwich, Conn., will begin a series of evangelistic services at the United Brethren church, on Bomar Heights, Sept. 12. Miss Kern lectured at the above named church last Wednesday night to a very good audience. Everybody is invited to attend these services and the co-operation of the pastors and church members of the different churches of the town are earnestly solicited. Miss Kern is an ordained minister of the Gospel.

The corn crop through this section is good. The yield will be much larger than the farmers expected during the dry months of May, June and most of July.

Almost a Miracle.

Eleven years ago a man by the name of Helm secured a divorce from his wife, and their only child, a little girl, then almost two years old, was given to the mother by decree of the court. Helm in some way secured the child and escaped. The mother notified the officers all over the State and many of the neighboring states, and the search began. When a child was found that in any way met the description of her child, the former Mrs. Helm hastened to the place, never heeding the distance. Almost eleven years elapsed, years of anxiety and fruitless search. After she had lost all hopes of finding her child. She married again, and time she married Mr. R. C. Rohrer, of Mayfield, Ky. Last week a neighbor and friend of Mrs. Rohrer came to her home with a letter, telling her that it was written by a child and bore the surname of her former husband. The postmark was Creelsboro, Ky. Mrs. Rohrer immediately told her husband and they left on the first train from Mayfield, arriving in Columbia last Thursday afternoon. Friday morning they left for Russell county, and as they were passing a home between Crocus and Creelsboro, Mrs. Rohrer recognized her daughter playing in the front yard. After the meeting of mother and child, Mrs. Rohrer was told that her former husband had been dead six years. The child had in some way found out that her mother was still living and resided in Mayfield. She had written the letter that had by accident fallen into the hands of Mrs. Rohrer's neighbor, and had written it without the knowledge of her grandmother, who was unwilling to give her up.

They came back through Columbia Saturday morning, bought the little girl the best of clothing, shoes, and all other wearing apparel necessary, and left on the morning auto for home.

The Bond Issue Discussed.

Are you in favor of issuing $125,000.00 in bonds for building roads and bridges in Adair county? This is the question that must be decided by the voters of Adair county, at the polls, on the 11th day of September. This question should be decided upon its merits and in view of existing conditions, and not upon mere assertions of what we would like to do. If roads are built by bond issue they must be built in such manner as is provided by law. They must be paid for and maintained by taxes collected from the people. Under the constitution of Kentucky Section 157, a tax rate of not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars can be levied and collected for all county purposes other than for schools. The taxable list of Adair county is in round numbers $2,600,000. Of the fifty cents allowed to be levied under the constitution, it takes at least forty cents to defray the ordinary expenses of the county, as can be seen by an examination of the records in the Adair County Court Clerk's office. In the future this is likely to be more as each legislature that meets adds some additional burden to the counties. But if it only required forty cents to meet our annual expenses there would only be left ten cents that could be applied to roads under the most favorable conditions.

If bonds should be voted an additional twenty cents on the one hundred dollars could be levied for roads. See Section 157 A constitution. This must be used to pay the interest on the bonds and to create a sinking fund to pay off the bonds.

This twenty cents added to the ten cents that might be used would make thirty cents. Thirty cents on the one hundred dollars will raise annually on the present assessed value of $2,600,000.00 the sum of $7800.00. This is the most that could be raised and it will more probably be less. The interest on $125,000.00 for one year will be $6250.00. A simple calculation will show that it will take all of the thirty cents that it is possible to raise, under the most favorable conditions, to pay the interest and retire the bonds in the allotted time of thirty years allowed under the law. To accomplish this it takes all the road funds, leaving nothing available for the up keep of the roads, and leaving no funds to be used on any other road in Adair county outside of the roads built by bond issue, and no deduction has been made for collecting the tax which goes to the payment of the bonds.

If State aid is sought, this money raised by bond issue must be used in the building of roads leading from the county seat of Adair county to the county seat of the adjoining counties by the most direct and practicable route. There are eighty miles of such road connecting the county seat of Adair county with the county seats of the adjoining counties.

The kind of road that the State will lend its aid in the building of will cost in Adair county on an average of not less than $2,400.00 per mile. This estimate of cost per mile of building road is based upon the estimated cost per mile of the road which Adair county has already planned to build from Columbia to Liberty. If then it will cost this amount per mile, to build roads in Adair county, such as the State will receive, the bond of $125,000.00 will build about 52 miles, which will leave something like twenty-eight miles of county seat roads unprovided for.

After the whole of this amount, $125,000.00, is put into the roads the State will be obligated to the county for one-half of this amount which would be $62,500.

Some of the advocates of this measure claim that the county would have to spend only $62,500 of the $125,000 in order to get $62,500 from the State. This is a mistake; the whole of the $125,000 must be put up by the county in order to get the $62,500 from the State. If this aid was all paid in at once it would not more than be sufficient to complete the county seat roads that is to say one road towards each county seat. But the State aid can not be paid in this way. We are not allowed to receive from the State in any year an amount exceeding two per cent of the total road fund of the State, which is estimated to be not more than $12,000 to any county, and this year the State will let Adair county have of this fund only about $3,200. The reason that Adair county does not get more is that the State Road Fund is not sufficient to pay more, and with the State of Kentucky very much in debt, it is not likely that it will be able to pay any more at one time, soon.

Now bear in mind that in the foregoing estimates you have used every cent that can be levied and collected under the law to pay the interest on the bonds and to pay off the bonds. You have exhausted your levy: no power to make any further levy, and absolutely no money with which to keep the pikes which you have built, in repair. A conservative estimate of cost to keep up pikes is from $100 to $200 per mile after the first three years, and this is the experience of every county that has pikes. And the road law under which these bonds are to be issued, requires that the Fiscal court make an appropriation in money to keep these roads in repair. Eighty miles of pike would cost to keep in repair not less than $8,000 per year and in all probability would cost a great deal more. Since you have exhausted the limit of your levy, where is the $8,000 or more to come from?

Aside from these pikes, if built, you have in Adair county over six hundred miles of public road for which there will not be one penny available, it matters not how great or urgent the necessity, because the entire road fund has been appropriated. And this condition as to the six hundred miles of road will continue until the bonds are paid off.

By voting these bonds you commit Adair county irrevocably to a thirty year proposition on eighty miles of pike with no funds to keep these eighty miles in repair, and no funds for the other six hundred miles, of road. You have committed yourselves during this entire period of time to a tax rate of seventy cents on the one hundred dollars for county and road purposes, whereas now it is only fifty cents for all county purposes other than school purposes, to which will be added whatever amount the school board of Adair county may desire, not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars for school purposes. The school board demanded and had levied fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars this year.

Not a foot of these pikes can ever be built nor can a cent of the road bond or State aid ever be used in Harmony, Roley, Egypt, Keltner and White Oak precincts until these county seat roads are completed, and if the pikes are built they will barely go on the outer edge of Glenville and Milltown precincts.

In the above estimate no allowance or deduction has been made for surveying of roads, damages for rights of way, and cost of condemnation proceedings, all of which must be paid by the county, and no part of which will be paid by the State, and all of which will go to reduce the amount to be received from the State.

It has been stated as an inducement to vote these bonds that the people of Adair county have been paying each year a road tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars.

This statement is far from correct. In the year 1910 the levy for road purposes was 5 cents; in the year 1911, it was 14 cents; in the year 1912, it was 10 cents; in the year 1913, it was 15 cents, and during this time one new bridge was built across Green river, and one old one that was washed away was put back across Green river at a cost of almost as much as a new one, and a new bridge was built across Russell creek. Last year, 1914, no road tax was levied or collected at all. This year, 1915, a road tax of twenty-five cents has been levied out of which the Fiscal court has made an appropriation to build a road under State aid as far as the funds will permit them to build, the contract for the building of which is to be let on the 10th day of September.

I make no suggestion how any man should vote on this question, but feel it my duty to see that the voters of Adair county know exactly what kind of a proposition they are up against.

Gordon Montgomery,
Columbia, Ky., Aug. 28, 1915.

Margaret, a ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Patteson, had the misfortune to get her left arm broken, near the wrist, last Monday afternoon. She was in a swing under a shade tree, and for some reason she climbed the tree to where the rope was tied over a limb. She lost her hold and fell to the ground with the result as above stated. Drs. Russell and Hindman reduced the fracture.

PACKING AND SHIPPING HOUSE, KENTUCKY STATE FOREST NURSERY

TREE PLANTING ALONG PUBLIC ROADS

Remarkable Development of Good Roads Sentiment in Kentucky Has Created a Demand For Shade Trees Along the Roads

The last year in Kentucky has seen a wonderful agitation for good roads throughout the State and at the present time a large number of highways are being constructed under the State-aid plan. There is no doubt but what the number of good roads in Kentucky will increase each year. The construction of good roads and the standardization of roads has created a demand for shade trees along the rights of way to beautify them. In anticipation of this demand the State Forester is paying particular attention to the raising at the State nurseries at Louisville and Frankfort trees particularly adapted for planting along the public highways. A good many species have been suggested and one idea which seems to have a firm root in the public mind and which may undoubtedly lead to a great deal of good in the community is the planting of nut bearing and fruit trees along the roads. It is felt that in this way the trees along the highways could be made to produce a product of sufficient value to aid in the maintenance of the road. This has been successfully done in several instances, particularly in Europe. With this end in view the State Forester has been experimenting with a large number of nut trees of different varieties including pecan, hickory, black walnut, English walnut and others. Also the growing of apple trees and other fruit trees along the road is a suggestion which meets with a great deal of favorable comment and the nursery at Louisville has undertaken the growing of apple stock on a large scale.

GATHERING TREE SEEDS

An Infant Industry in Kentucky Developed by State Nurseries.

The experience in growing trees at the State nursery has shown very clearly that in a great many cases it is not possible to get tree seeds of the native species at the time and in the condition desired. Kentucky is peculiar in that up to very recently there has been no agency or individual interested in the gathering of tree seed in its borders. The demand for the tree seeds in the State nurseries at Louisville and Frankfort has started in a small way a new industry in the gathering of tree seeds within the State. Last year a considerable portion of the seed planted was obtained from Kentucky. Several small boys had become interested in this line of work and gathered a considerable quantity of seed of certain varieties. It is expected this fall that the bulk of the seed planted in the State nurseries will be obtained within the State from native varieties. The gathering of tree seed offers an attractive field for a limited number of individuals, particularly bright boys, who are willing to take the time and trouble necessary to distinguish tree species.

INTEREST IN SHADE TREES

State Forester Prepared to Answer Questions With Regard to Shade Trees.

With every passing year the interest of the citizens of Kentucky in the shade trees of the cities, towns and villages, along public highways and on private lands and estates has become more keen, for the reason that our people as a whole are gradually coming to an appreciation of the worth of individual trees and of tree communities from an aesthetic point of view, and are alive to their value as factors for health and comfort in the community. This is a natural development in line with an awakening public interest in parks, public playgrounds, better roads and highways and the development of attractive surroundings on the farm. In all this the trees play a very important part. Then, too, throughout the state the present shade trees, which are to a very considerable extent remnants of the original forest, are decaying, deteriorating and dying. Their owners are interested most decidedly in their preservation, if possible.

An Awful Shock.

Once upon a time a man remembered that the day was the tenth anniversary of his wedding, and he brought home some flowers and candy to his wife and gave her a kiss. And it took eight doctors nine days to restore the poor woman from the effect of the shock. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Scorching.

"Things were getting too warm for me in that section of the country." "What was the reason?" "I was burning up too many of the roads." —Baltimore American.

EXPERIMENTAL FOREST.

Permanent Exhibit at the State Fair in Louisville.

In conjunction with the forest nursery at Louisville, there is being established an experimental forest which will also be a permanent exhibit in connection with the State Fair. It is expected in this experimental forest to show on a small scale what may be done on any farm in Kentucky in the way of raising wood material, and will be of undoubted interest to farmers and others who have already wood lots on their land or expect to plant them either for the material or for the purpose of soil fixation and regeneration. This forest will be situated on the bank of the Ohio river, and, in addition to furnishing a demonstration of what can be done in the way of practical forestry, it will also afford a wind-break for the state nursery, and will serve to hold the bank of the Ohio river in its present place.

Sensible Women Know Foundation of Health

As health talks to women become more general, both in the newspapers and on the platform, the mass of women are beginning to realize what the more cultivated have always known, that good health cannot be found in a powder box. The externals of health may be obtained in that way, but the basis of health lies deeper, and yet is just as easily obtained.

The most important thing that a woman can do for herself, and about which she is often most neglectful, is to watch the condition of her stomach and bowels. The weary eyes, the bad breath, the frequent headaches, the pimples, the general air of lassitude is nine times out of ten the result of constipation or indigestion, or both. Many simple remedies can be obtained, but the best in the estimation of most women is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, pleasant to the taste and exactly suited to her needs. It is far superior to salts, cathartic pills, waters, etc., which are entirely too violent. Women should see to it that they have at least one movement of the bowels each day, and when showing any tendency to constipation should take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed. A brief use of it will so train the stomach and bowel muscles that all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. These opinions are voiced by thousands of women, after personal experience, among them Miss V. L. Moore, 32 Claiborne St., Nashville, Tenn., and Florence Cook, Lucas, Ky.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Dirigo.

Although it has rained every day for a week quite a number from this section attended the fair.

Elders Judd and Hardy, of the Mormon Church, have been holding a series of meetings at this place for the past week.

Miss Bessie Epperson, Roy, has been employed as an assistant teacher in the school at this place and entered upon the work last Monday. We are having one of the best schools ever taught in this district. About seventy pupils are in daily attendance.

Leslie Janes and family and Leslie Smith and family, who sold out and removed to Illinois last spring, have returned to their old homes near here. They claim that they have done an unusual amount of work since they left here and that they reached their old homes with five hundred dollars less money than they started away with. This is a good lesson. You may hear glowing tales of the money that can be made away from here, but when you go there it is like a mirage, it is just a little further on.

R. A. Epperson, Roy, was here last Friday.

The meeting at Hogart's Chapel closed last Sunday with five additions to the church.

Mrs. Eldridge Stotts and two little sons, have been quite sick for the past few days.

Matthew and Allen Wooten have begun work on the farm they recently purchased at this place. They mean to build about two miles of fence; to erect a large barn and to improve the dwelling by adding some three or four more rooms.

While attempting to drill the schoolhouse well at this place a little deeper, J. J. England and John Jesse have had the misfortune to lose their drill. The well was one hundred and six feet deep when the stem of the drill broke off just below where the rope was fastened to it and up until now they have been unable to remove the drill from the well. This accident has put the well out of commission and so the school is now forced to carry water from the spring near James Stotts'.

The Moonlight Schools.

What can we do as teachers of Adair county that will be any more beneficial to our county than to strive to hold to her in that honored position that she has gained in moonlight schools?

May we as teachers strive to reach that point when illiteracy may be erased from Adair county. Our forefathers have fought on the battle fields for our freedom that we enjoy today and it behooves us, as teachers to fight against illiteracy. He, who fights the harder gains the victory. May we realize our duty as soldiers fighting for education and never let our duty chase us around the corner when we are commanded to fire. If it does may it chase us off the battlefield of the profession. For by our works they shall know us.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

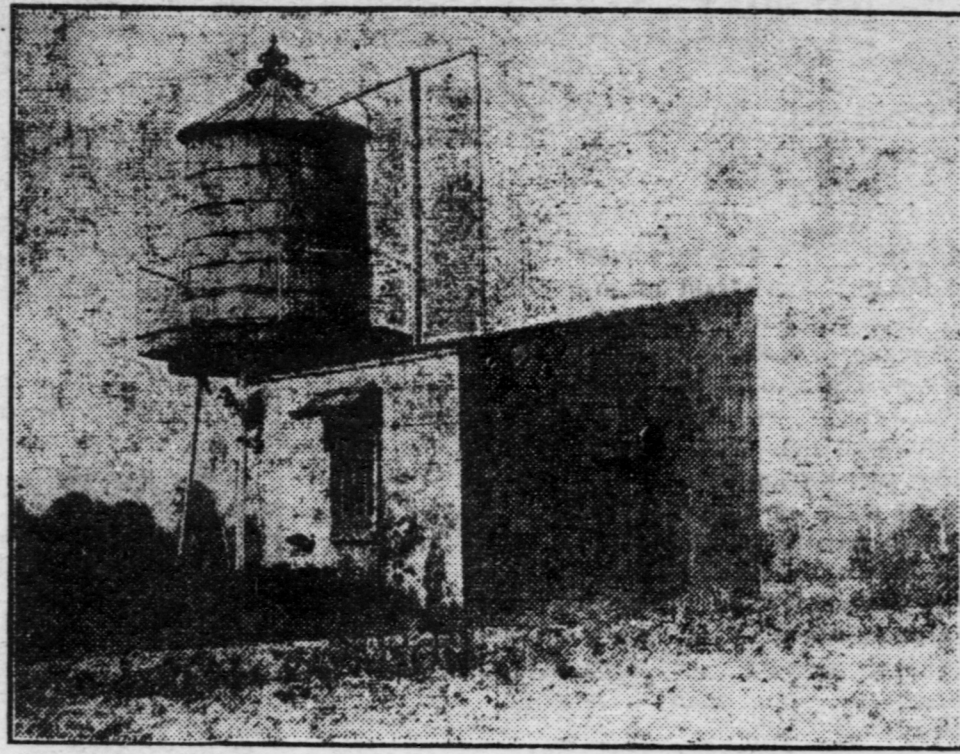

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

FOREST EXTENSION, STATE NURSERIES

Demand For Material at State Nurseries Shows That Kentucky People Are Beginning to Plant Trees As Well As Cut Them Down

Frankfort, Ky.—(Special)—It is patent to those individuals who have made a study of the matter that there are certain areas of Kentucky which are more valuable for the production of forests than for agriculture or pasturage. In fact, there are certain areas which never will produce anything except timber crops. In order to encourage the planting of these areas to timber, and also encourage the planting of timber or worn out lands for regenerative purposes and to prevent erosion, the State Board of Forestry, early in its work, provided for two nurseries—one at Louisville (which is the larger) and one at Frankfort, which is hardly a year old at the present time. The nursery at Louisville was started early in the fall of 1913, and has been gradually increasing its capacity. Last fall the first sale of stock was made from the Louisville nursery, amounting to one thousand black locusts and one hundred catalpa seedlings. That such nursery supplies are wanted in the State is shown by the fact that, if available, at least ten thousand black locusts could have been sold and an indefinite number of other species. There is no doubt but what, as the existence and extent of the nursery is realized throughout the State, a large and continuous demand will spring up for seedlings and transplants which the State can furnish, since these seedlings will be sold at cost to individuals who desire them. The nursery will pay for itself in time and the cost of the stock will be reduced as the capacity of the nursery increases. At the present time there are considerably over six thousand transplants in the beds at the nursery at Louisville. The species which were planted in the Louisville nursery this spring were as follows: Box elder, white ash, blue ash, apple stock, apricot, American beech, buckeye, catalpa, chestnut, Kentucky coffee tree, wild cherry, sweet cherry, American elm, ginkgo, sweet gum, shell bark hickory, mockernut hickory, pignut hickory, black locust, sugar maple, red maple, cucumber magnolia, white oak, red oak, black oak, bur oak, pin oak, yellow poplar, black walnut, Japanese walnut.

These were sown in the Frankfort nursery twelve seed beds 24x4 feet, with the following species: Chestnut, red oak, black walnut, pin oak, yellow poplar, shell bark hickory, sugar maple, white ash. Each spring and fall sees the capacity of the nurseries very materially increased.

The varieties which have been planted in the nurseries have been (with the exception of some species with which it was decided to experiment) confined almost entirely to native Kentucky trees of special commercial importance. Just what number of seedlings will be available this fall for distribution and sale it is impossible at this time to determine on account of the earliness of the season. The seed beds were very materially increased within the year. One feature of the nursery work at Louisville was the planting of one-half bushel of apple seed. It is eventually expected that the Louisville nursery will be able to furnish apple stock of standard variety to individuals around the State and that the orcharding which is becoming a feature of agricultural work in Kentucky will in this way be materially assisted. Also the nursery is experimenting with varieties of walnuts, chestnut, pecans and other nut trees which produce commercial orchards.

PRESERVE FOREST LANDS

Forest Conservation Concerns Both City and Farm.

Many dwellers in towns and cities feel great interest in forestry and would be glad to give active aid to the cause. Some are doing so by the improvement of forest lands which they own, but there are greater numbers who are not able to do this but who greatly desire to enjoy the forests and to help along any movement tending to their improvement. The preservation of forests for natural scenery; to check the winds and hold back the waters; to stop erosion of valuable farm lands; to harbor birds and animals; to produce materials for building and manufacturing are matters which concern city people as well as those who dwell on farms.

The obligation to protect the forests rests upon all and the opportunity to enjoy them should be enjoyed by all. Cities should own forest parks in which the design should be to get away from the conventional and costly style of landscape gardening now so common in city parks.

Such parks, if made as natural as possible, would cost far less to establish and maintain than other parks and would serve many purposes. They would help to arouse an interest in forestry and to show its practicability. They would afford means of recreation and study, supplementing the courses in school. If the agricultural experiment stations in the different states were enabled to co-operate in the establishment and maintenance of such forest parks, the arrangement would no doubt be mutually helpful, since the work would be started along forestry rather than ornamental lines and its permanency would be reasonably sure.

Forest conservation to many people means the saving of mature trees and nothing more. Real conservation takes into account all that is of value, also that which has a potential value. Correct ideas, regarding values of forest products need an entire reconstruction, as upon a proper conception of what constitutes the most essential part of a forest rests the fundamental doctrine of conservation. To save that which is worth but little and to waste that which is full of possibilities shows wrong ideas regarding values, but examples of this kind are very common. Almost every one appreciates the worth of a large oak, walnut or pine tree, but to most people a seedling of the same species is nothing but a weed. It seems hard for any one, who has not studied the rate of growth of trees, to realize that a mature tree makes but little growth and is worth saving only as long as it remains sound, while a thrifty young tree is growing into value at a rapid rate. But little that is really worth while will be done in the care of our timber trees until we come to realize that forest conservation means the saving of trees of all ages and sizes. However, it is gratifying to note that the interest in forestry is growing constantly and that the number of trees planted each year is increasing.

ASSERTS SHE WAS AFRAID OF SHADOW

Miss Underhill Says Tanlac Has Relieved Her of Nervousness.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31.—"I was so nervous I actually was afraid of my shadow," Miss Christine Underhill, assistant manager of the soda fountain at the Herman Straus Company's store, this city, told friends recently when relating her experience with Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"I had all sorts of hallucinations and worried about all kinds of trifles," Miss Underhill continued. "I knew that I was suffering from excessive nervousness and was in a terribly run-down condition. I tried many medicines without being benefited. I finally decided to try Tanlac.

"To say that I was benefited would be expressing myself in too mild a manner. I was astonished at the result. After taking only a few doses I noticed a marked improvement. My entire nervous system seemed to have undergone a wonderful change. My sleep became restful and refreshing and my appetite reappeared.

"Really," she laughingly added, "I ate so ravenously that I was afraid my board bill would be raised."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is now on sale in Columbia at Page & Taylor's drug-store.

Rev. C. Connor Brown, Synodical Evangelist of the Presbyterian Church, held a very helpful meeting at Union church last week. By his straight forward, plain preaching, many have seen the truth as never before, and have been led to a better life. During the meeting there were fourteen confessions, seven of whom joined Union church. The remainder will join other churches. The church feels encouraged and will have a deep interest in Mr. Brown and his work.

Biliousness and Constipation.

It is certainly surprising that any woman will endure the miserable feelings caused by biliousness and constipation, when relief is so easily had and at so little expense. Mrs. Chas. Peck, Gates, N. Y., writes: "About a year ago I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured me of biliousness and constipation." For sale by Paull Drug Co.
